Notes from Reverend Jim Gertmenian

Seen last summer on a country road: a man and his son walking along the shoulder – the boy, eleven, twelve, just a few steps ahead of his dad. Leaves from the same notebook, these faces – written in the same hand and telling an uninterrupted story, yet bearing the clear marks of having been set down on different days and reflective of different moods, different seasons. The boy comes to a small bridge, stops, leans over the railing to watch the water glide away beneath. Now the father is behind him (this is the part I remember most vividly, as if it were I standing there on the bridge), putting a hand on each shoulder, and in a single, effortless movement, he bends over and kisses his son on the top of his head. If the boy responds, it is in neither word nor visible gesture, but in some language reserved for the two of them, a language which I, the outside, can never know.

Reflecting on this now, I think of a line from Willa Cather, in My Antonia. Antonia is speaking to Jim Burden, her life-long friend: “Ain’t it wonderful, Jim, how much people can mean to each other?”

It is wonderful – even though the boy and the man will not always walk the country road, even though the relationship of parent and child must, to be healthy, include conflict as well as continuity. Even though the day will come when it will be the younger man who leans over his father to leave a kiss, a kiss of parting. Relationships – all kinds of relationships – are fraught with difficulty, even pain, but still . . . it is “wonderful how much people can mean to each other.” Don’t you agree?

When I moved to Maine a few years ago after retiring from the ministry, it was hard for me to imagine joining a church. For a variety of reasons I just wasn’t ready. Perhaps I was still grieving the separation from my last congregation. Perhaps I wasn’t sure how to comfortably sit in a pew, when all I had known for forty-plus years was standing in the pulpit. The reasons don’t really matter now. What matters is that when I happened to find myself in worship at the Foreside Community Church, the first thing I noticed was how much you all mean to one another. It was palpable, obvious . . . and moving to me. I’m still a newcomer, having just joined the church about a year ago, and there are many of you whom I still want to know. But it feels right – a gift – to be able to share in the life of a congregation where there is such mutual care and where the tender threads of community are so beautifully woven.

I look forward to sharing in the leadership of worship for three Sundays this month while Geoff is on Parental Leave . . . and though I won’t be able to “see” you, it gives me joy to know that you will be there.

Warmly,

Jim Gertmenian

Arrangements During Pastor Geoff's Parental Leave

Dear Members and Friends,

As you know, Geoff and Julia are expecting their baby on March 7th(-ish)! We are so happy for them and excited to welcome baby Parker. Geoff will be taking Parental Leave when the baby is born. He will take about three weeks, return for Holy Week, Easter, and Confirmation Sunday (which is the week after Easter), and then go back on Parental Leave for another three weeks, through May 2nd. We have a terrific team of clergy (all members of our church) who will be filling in for Geoff while he is on leave.

The Rev. Jim Gertmenian and Rev. Kelli Whitman will be splitting worship leadership/preaching (Jim – before Easter, Kelli – after Easter), with the technical aspects to be handled by our very capable Laura Rodas. Rev. Susan Gilpin will be providing Pastoral Care before Holy Week, while Kelli Whitman will provide Pastoral Care after Confirmation Sunday on April 11. If you are in need of Pastoral Care, please do not hesitate to reach out to Susan or Kelli during their respective "on-call" time periods. Their contact information is listed below, and will be again provided in Weekly Updates, etc. Myself as Governing Board Moderator (nancy\_olmstead@hotmail.com / 232-3683) and Deb Gray as Vice-Moderator (Deborah.gray48@gmail.com / 433-0427), should be called upon as needed for any matters of church business that require attention during the weeks of Geoff's Leave.

Please remember that Parental Leave is Geoff's time to bond with the baby, and is a time of rest from his regular duties. Please refrain from contacting him about matters of church business or with Pastoral Care requests during this time.

Thank you to everyone who will serve our community during the coming time. And thanks be to God for the blessings of new life!

Nancy Olmstead, on behalf of the Governing Board

A Thank You From the Parkers

Dear Friends at Foreside Community Church,

There are no ways to say, "thank you" enough to cover our gratitude for the generosity and love that this congregation has surrounded us with throughout Julia's pregnancy, and as we enter these exciting weeks of waiting for our little one to arrive.

We want to thank all of you for all of the ways in which you came together to celebrate and share with us at the baby shower on February 14th. We had so much fun seeing and talking with so many of you, playing games with you (excellent baby photos from all!), and celebrating new life on the way.

You all gave such thoughtful (and sometimes very necessary!) gifts, so many blessings in the book you created, funds for future education, and the gift of a beloved community that our little one comes to join soon. We can not thank you all enough, and especially Liz Ventre and the Ministry of Fellowship, Wendy Tracy, Wendi Maynard, Cathy D'Agostino, and Jill Fox for all of the preparations for the day itself.

We look forward to sharing happy news in the week(s?) to come!

Love,
Geoff and Julia Parker

Some members have been asking how we can help care for those who have been impacted by the severe winter weather in the South. The following is from our National United Church of Christ news-room.

UCC Issues Appeal in Response to Winter Storms

The United Church of Christ is issuing an appeal to assist people affected by this year's Winter Storms.

The impact of massive and intense storms is being felt across a wide swath of the United States. So far Texas has been particularly hard hit, and the situation there is terrifying.

All counties in Texas have been affected. Snow, freezing temperatures and slick roads have made movement difficult. Power outages, boil water orders, potable water and food shortages, and bursting water pipes as temperatures finally rise are causing widespread havoc.

As the tragedy continues to unfold, a number of UCC congregations are opening up warming centers and distributing emergency food and water. The South Central Conference has reached out to all its churches to inquire about damage and the needs of their ministries.

UCC Disaster Ministries, Global H.O.P.E. Team are working with leaders in the impacted communities. The current and ongoing needs include support for shelter and food, clean-up, and repair.

How you can help

Pray for the communities impacted by the storms. Make a secure online donation to help with immediate needs and the long-term recovery that will follow. (Designate your gift for "Winter Emergency Appeal 2021." (<https://www.ucc.org/giving/donate-now/general-donation/>))

Stories of Compassionate Acts During Covid-19

In February's Steeplenotes, we learned of the incredible volunteer efforts being offered up by many friends and members of The Foreside Community Church through the works of the Falmouth Food Pantry during this time of pandemic. If you missed it, click here to see the newsletter and the article. Once again we wish to acknowledge, and applaud these individuals for their charitable deeds, standing as a witness to God.

We know that this is not the complete story however about the acts of kindness that many of you have extended, or are still involved in. I would like to now have the opportunity to tell your individual stories, sharing them with hopes of encouraging others to engage, feeling inspired by the goodness and humanity that does exist in our church and community.

Are you babysitting, providing transportation, assisting with in-home schooling, shopping for someone home bound? How about providing any form of assistance with helping others obtain those most precious vaccines? Are you an actual vaccine administrator? Have you shared your computer access with those who do not have the same, or how about financial donations and contributions to those agencies whose focus is to help reduce the negative economic impacts of this horrendous virus? Have you donated blood?

If you have, or are contributing your time, talent, and/or assets, please call or email me (781-5880 / csklarz@foresidechurch.org) no later than March 12 so that I may capture and then relay to others in the congregation your personal narrative. No accounting is too small or insignificant.

My goal is to (hopefully) hear from many of you in time to craft and then include this article in the April Steeplenotes. Please consider sharing, and in the meantime, do not hesitate to contact me with any questions that once answered, may encourage you to tell your story.

Standing by...

Christina

UPDATES, REPORT OUTS, AND UPCOMING EVENTS AT FCC

The next Zoom meeting date of the FCC Book Club is set for Wednesday, March 10 at 4:00 p.m. when attendees will discuss The Magician's Assistant by Ann Patchett, summarized in the following.

Sabine—twenty years a magician's assistant to her handsome, charming husband—is suddenly a widow. In the wake of his death, she finds he has left a final trick; a false identity and a family allegedly lost in a tragic accident but now revealed as very much alive and well. Named as heirs in his will, they enter Sabine's life and set her on an adventure of unraveling his secrets, from sunny Los Angeles to the windswept plains of Nebraska, that will work its own sort of magic on her. (Excerpt from Google Books.) As always, everyone is welcome to join us for an hour of good, friendly conversation. Click here for the link to get into the meeting.

The Birthday Corner ~

One of the many ways that Covid-19 has impacted our lives is to severely limit birthday celebrations. However, we can each do our part to make someone's birthday a little brighter by sending birthday wishes via a phone call, a text, an e-mail, or a card. (Please contact the office for a copy of the current Members and Friends Directory.) Who doesn't love to find something other than junk mail and bills in their mailbox? To that end, please consider giving some joy to one of the following church members who are celebrating a big day in March:

From the Archives

When I was very young I lived on Johnson Road and then in 1920 my family moved to the Town Landing Road. Every Sunday my parents, Walter and Effie Nickerson, and my five sisters, Grace, Ruth, Norma, Helen, Mildred and I would walk to church, seldom missing a service no matter what the weather was.

My mother would bring pencils, paper and molasses cookies to help keep us quiet during the service. And, we were always quiet. Communion was different then because people would come up to the railing in small groups and kneel down. I remember this because I would check out the soles of everyone's shoes. We always sat in the second pew from the front on the Falmouth side so I had a good view.

I had the same teacher for Sunday School for 17 years (1915-1932). Her name was Mrs. Sturdivant and she was wonderful. The times I liked best were when it was warm enough to sit outside on the large front steps for classes. We had to learn Bible verses and at different times received small crosses with verses on them. Once I remember having to stand before the congregation and recite the Beatitudes for Brent Taylor's father, Capt. Prescott Taylor. He and his wife were wonderful to all of us.

My favorite minister growing up was Merle Conant (1927-1935). He was as a very beloved person to us young people. He and his wife Alice took several of the Sunday School children to Thomas Pond, Raymond for a week. Emilie Cram, Bill Ricker and I were the oldest and looked after the younger ones.

When I was a teenager, there was at least eight of us who would walk to church together on Sunday evenings for Epworth League (youth group). There were Men's and Women's Bible classes and church services on Wednesday evenings as well.

On February 17, 1940 I married William O. Burleigh from Natick, Mass. We were married by John Dunstan in the front room of the parsonage. I wanted to have Merle Conant but he was in Bangor stuck in the snow. I had very nearly didn't make it up from Mass. At the time one could see the water from the Parsonage front room and I distinctly remember how blue the water looked with the pure white snow.

After that I didn't return to Falmouth until 1952.
