Notes from Kelli Whitman

Dear Foreside friends,

The crocuses outside my back door bloomed a few days ago. Almost overnight, they went from single green stem blades to blooms of deep purple and golden yellow. The rest of my spring bulbs, the tulips and daffodils, and my single, fragrant hyacinth are all on their way, and I've got my fingers crossed that they might pop by Easter.

But the crocuses always blooms first. Often before I'm ready for spring. Before I realize that the days are indeed growing longer and the soil is warming, and that the cycles of growth and renewal are already at work in places I can't yet perceive.

The crocus blooms first, but it also seems to know that the world is not quite ready to receive it. I love to watch the delicate yellow and purple petals open and close, opening to receive the warm afternoon sun, closing again against the chill of the evening air. Every day I pass by the flowers and they remind me that this season of life and renewal is in a slow process of unfolding and retreating and trying again when the sun is right.

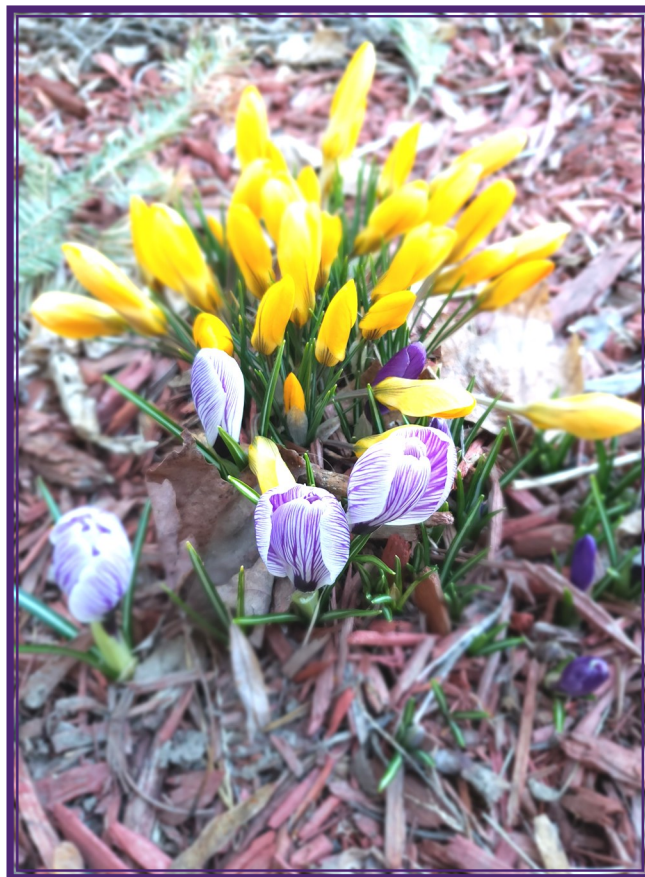

We are entering the liturgical season of Easter. That's right, Easter is in fact an entire season, not a single day. We have 50 days to celebrate the mystery and promise of the resurrection. 50 days to ponder what it means that the tomb is empty and Christ goes ahead of us into the world. This year, I am especially grateful to remember that I have a whole season to welcome the resurrection. Easter, like my crocus, feels as if it has come too early. There's still so much grief and uncertainty in my life and my world – I'm in no mood to shout, "Alleluia."

And yet, the tomb is indeed empty. Christ is loose in the world and beckons us to follow. So, I will lean into a slow unfolding of Easter this year. Like the crocus petals, I'm letting my heart take in moments of joy and moments of grief, opening and closing to protect and nurture the delicate whispers of hope and renewal that are blooming in the world. I'm giving myself that full 50 days to let the Easter promise take root in me. Christ is risen. He is risen indeed.

It will be my great joy to lead a few worship services during this Easter season. In worship, we'll be celebrating the unfolding season of Easter by reading several stories of Jesus' post-Easter appearances. I'll also be your primary contact for pastoral care needs from April 1-21, so don't hesitate to contact me if you have need (200-4992 / kelli.b.whitman@gmail.com).

*In Easter hope,
Rev. Kelli Whitman*

NOTICE OF THE 2021 SPRING MEETING AT FORESIDE COMMUNITY CHURCH

You are hereby notified that an informational zoom meeting will be held on Sunday, May 16, 2021 following the online church service. This is in lieu of coffee hour, but will use the same zoom link, accessed here.

At the meeting, the roster of new and current officers (please see Nancy Olmstead's article on page 3 of this newsletter), and members of the various Ministries and boards will be presented. These rosters will also be distributed via email or USPS prior to the meeting. In addition, annual reports from the different ministries will be presented for review.

Approval by the membership for all officers must be submitted by May 24, either via an online link or a call to the office.

Respectfully submitted,
Carrie Penrose, Clerk

TO:	All (Co) Chairs of all Ministries and Committees, and All Appropriate Staff
FROM:	Carrie Penrose, Clerk
SUBJECT:	ANNUAL REPORTS DUE BY May 1, 2021

Please be informed that all annual reports for the period 2020 through 2021 are due in the church office in electronic format no later than May 1, 2021. Please contact Christina if you wish to receive a copy of your last year's report or have any questions regarding this timing requirement.

Thank you.

Dear Members and Friends of the Church,

As we enter the season of Spring, it is the time of year when the Ministries of the Church, and the Governing Board, spend time considering who will serve on these groups next year. The Spring Meeting of the congregation in May is the time when new ministry members, officers, and Governing Board members are elected. The proposed new rosters must be finalized in advance of the Spring Meeting, to be presented to the congregation for review.

Therefore, we invite every member and friend to consider whether you are called to serve in one of our church's ministries: Justice and Outreach, Fellowship, Stewardship, Worship, and Christian Education. Service on these ministries is open to all, members and friends alike. We also welcome nominations of church members for at-large positions on the Governing Board. We invite your prayerful consideration and self-nominations, preferably by mid-April, to the relevant ministry chair, or to myself and Deb Gray of the Governing Board, for the Governing Board positions (see list with contact info below).

This has been a hard year for all of us. We have faced numerous challenges, from the physical isolation of COVID to times of loss and grief. Through it all, the fellowship of our church community has persevered. We have had to adapt, to change our habits and practices. But we remain hopeful for the future and committed to the love and community that helps sustain us in these strange times. Our service on the various groups of the church is one way that we stay connected and build relationships with one another. I invite you into those relationships, as you are called.

Grace and peace to you,

Nancy

It is with heavy heart that we share that member Marjorie "Marge" Backman passed on March 10, 2021 after slipping into an irreversible coma a few days prior. Marge was originally from Columbia, Tennessee where she trained as a dental hygienist and later received a BS in Education, which led to a teaching position in Old Town. After her marriage, she lived in Niagara Falls before returning to Maine and making Falmouth her permanent home. Marge joined FCC on January 31, 2016 and was a dedicated pledger and active member of the knitting group. She was graced with arresting blue eyes and loved to wear Nike sneakers just about everywhere. Though petit in size, there was nothing diminished about Marge's socially gregarious and outgoing demeanor. Cards and condolences may be sent to her daughter Marlys Furze at 51 Colonial Village, Falmouth, 04105. There are no further memorial plans to share at this time.

UPDATES, REPORT OUTS, AND UPCOMING EVENTS AT FCC

The Justice & Outreach Ministry wants our congregation to know that despite the pandemic our ministry continues to provide assistance wherever possible in the name of The Foreside Community Church. An area of great concern continues to be greater Portland at risk and homeless teens. These young people are very vulnerable. The Teen Center in Portland has continued to offer a safe temporary haven while also providing various supplies and emergency items. This past winter Justice & Outreach donated funds for eye exams and glasses and in March we donated additional funds to pay for more eyeglasses. Recently nurse practitioner Peggy Akers sent a note to F.C.C. sharing the positive impact this gift has had for the teens.

In addition to local children, J&O continues to provide funds for the Lo-oc Soup Kitchen in the Philippines, and we are also assisting James Kyeynue in his struggle to feed the 267 orphans he nurtures at the Mbabaali School in Uganda. The pandemic has inflicted terrible suffering on all the children in these countries.

Although the pandemic has curtailed most "hands-on" projects available to F.C.C., one charity has retained an active role in the work of Justice & Outreach, the Falmouth Food Pantry. Currently sixteen members of our community have joined with more than four dozen area volunteers to provide food to greater Portland families facing real hunger. The number of F.C.C. volunteers is part of the large number of church members who financially support the Pantry. There are many reasons why families turn to a pantry for food: illness, disabilities, accidents, and housing costs have always caused a challenge for low-income families. But many have now lost jobs or have reduced work hours and added to the dramatic increase in the cost of food, the crisis has seriously impacted low-income families who did not have a financial cushion.

As people become vaccinated and some restrictions are eased, it is easy to forget that those at the bottom of the economic ladder will continue to face a much longer time to recover financially. Each week the Pantry receives calls from General Assistance and social workers asking for food deliveries to families in crisis. Because of the generous financial support of our community the Falmouth Food Pantry has been able to add these referred families to our list of home deliveries. We hope that those who are able will continue to support this work. If you would like to donate, tax deductible checks can be made out and mailed to Falmouth Food Pantry, 279 Middle Road, Falmouth, Maine 04105. Thank you all for your compassion and generosity for the Programs supported by Justice & Outreach.

Ministry Chair

Stewardship Ministry Updates

David Hines, from our investment firm HM Payson, will join our Stewardship meeting at 7 PM on Monday, April 12 to discuss ESG investing. ESG stands for environmental, social and governance. ESG investing, is a form of sustainable investing that considers an investment's financial returns and its overall impact. An investment's ESG score measures the sustainability of an investment in three specific categories: environmental, social and corporate governance. In other words, does the church want to invest in tobacco? Fossil fuel? Gun manufacture? Does socially responsible investing mean less income? Join us for a lively conversation. David and his family live in Kennebunk. He is the vice president for research, and has been with the firm for 18 years. A Zoom link will be released shortly.

A big "shout out" to Mark Munson and his many handyman skills. Mark has taken time to complete several important repairs around the church, as we prepare to re-open the doors at some point this spring/summer. (More on this to follow from the Governing Board.) To date, he has replaced the damaged paper dispenser in the ADA bathroom, appropriately mounted the new Class C fire extinguisher in the kitchen, and is currently working on restriping the safety tape on the stair treads as well as retiling two of the three stair landings. And then, just to finish off the day, retrieved a bat that had chosen the sanctuary window on which to expire. Mark is a good man at the wheel, and is saving the cost of hiring out these jobs.

May 22 has been scheduled for the annual church grounds clean-up with a rain date of May 23. Stay tuned, more info to follow!

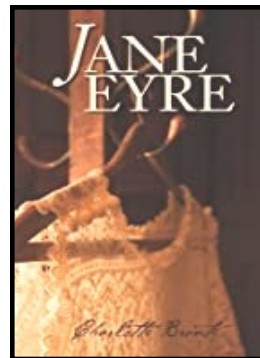

Fellowship Ministry Updates

If you missed last month's travelogue, you missed a wonderful evening with Lisa and Jay Nash and their trip out west. We learned a lot about the Native American Reservation in South Dakota as well as the geography of that part of the United States. I am sure it inspired others to want to go west and see the Badlands, Yellowstone, the Grand Tetons, and the prairies. Thank you Jay and Lisa for sharing.

On April 21 at 7:00 p.m. we will be traveling to Vietnam with Phil Gleason and Mary Schendel. This will be a great opportunity to see another part of our world which I suspect few of us have visited. Keep watching the Weekly Updates for more information as we get closer to the date.

April Birthdays! Let us celebrate:

The Foreside Book Club will be meeting again through Zoom on Wednesday April 14 at 4:00 p.m. to discuss the classic Jane Eyre by Charlotte Brontë. Jane Eyre is an autobiographical novel by Charlotte Brontë that was first published in 1847. "Charlotte Brontë's most beloved novel describes the passionate love between the courageous orphan Jane Eyre and the brilliant, brooding, and domineering Rochester. The loneliness and cruelty of Jane's childhood strengthens her natural independence and spirit, which prove invaluable when she takes a position as a governess at Thornfield Hall. But after she falls in love with her sardonic employer, her discovery of his terrible secret forces her to make a heart-wrenching choice. Ever since its publication in 1847, Jane Eyre has enthralled every kind of reader, from the most critical and cultivated to the youngest and most unabashedly romantic. It lives as one of the great triumphs of storytelling and as a moving and unforgettable portrayal of a woman's quest for self-respect." (Quoted from Penguin Vintage Classics.) Please join us for what should be another rewarding conversation. Everybody is welcome to join us at any time. We are not an exclusive "club" and love to hear all opinions. A Reminder from Christian Ed

Don't forget your egg-cellent project!!

- Pick up an egg, or two, or three - you can even take one for each member in your family!
- Paint them for keeps, or bring some or all of them back.
- Using your well-honed or rusty creative side, hope you'll find joy as you embark on this task.
- When received, they'll remind the giver or receiver that God's steadfast love, and hope, is always there.

Once you are done, snap a picture and share your fun with us - Your egg(s) may be featured in Steeplenotes and in the Easter morning service, and when we return in-person safely, we'll have a basket of these lovingly crafted eggs available for those who'd like one.

Wooden eggs are available outside the interior office side door - please use hand sanitizer before handling the crate of eggs. Individual bags are available for carrying your chosen eggs home. If you already have eggs or would like to purchase them, you can find them online or at just about any craft store or large retailer like Walmart or Target. Please send a photo by April 1st to Laura Rodas at LNash8@aol.com. You're welcome to hold on to your egg or drop it off at FCC whenever is convenient!

Book Group Discussing Grief

Some of you may remember when Patricia McKernon Runkle came to speak at FCC. She was fascinating to listen to and she talked about grief and what she discovered grieving her brother's death and in writing this book. Given all that has been happening in the greater world as well in our much smaller community, Fellowship thought perhaps exploring grief in a small group might be of interest to some of our community.

Beginning Thursday April 8th at 7:00 pm and continuing thru the end of the month on a weekly basis, Susan Gilpin has agreed to host a book group discussing the book Grief's Compass Walking the Wilderness with Emily Dickinson by Patricia McKernon Runkle. It is a short (around 125 pages) but wonderful book about traveling through the wilderness of grief. She does this with personal stories and journal entries as well as with both her own and Emily Dickinson's poetry. This gives the book many different voices and writing styles, so if Emily Dickinson is not your style, there is plenty more for you to enjoy or with which to wrestle.

More From The Fellowship Ministry

Travelogue Hosts Needed

Fellowship is looking for people who will be willing to share their adventures starting next fall in a travelogue. Your travel can be anywhere from Maine to Australia. We encourage you to think close to home or if you are "from away" your home state. Perhaps you love hiking and wish to share the several summits you explored this summer. Perhaps you share fun day trips you have taken to places nearby. Of course, if you have had an adventure in another country or continent, that is fabulous as well. All that is required is that you put together a presentation of your photos, you pick a date one month and you and Liz come up with something for the Steeplenotes. She will do the heavy lifting. Her hope is to have a number lined up so it is not a scramble every month.

If you have any questions, feel free to contact Liz Ventre 653-4117.
