Notes from Pastor Geoff

Out of Many, One

As we enter both a season of gratitude and thanksgiving, and the colder season that may challenge us all as we strive to weather the ongoing state of the pandemic, I find myself turning above all to a deepening gratitude that I have for our church community: the way in which we both experience—and practice—oneness here.

Division and discord seems to be the norm for the larger scale of our public life. On matters of inequality and injustice, on the basic human dignity of people across race or gender identity, and now to the very basics of public health and information... there is a distressing violence and dehumanizing nature to the public (and often anonymous) conversation our nation and the world is having. For those who have the privilege of being able to do so, disengagement and apathy are too often a temptation.

In the last month I've had opportunity to reflect on and honor the lives of two dear friends whose political and ideological views were very different, even as they raised amazing children and nurtured decades and decades of committed marriage together. Lots of people have asked me if I knew their secret, and if I could teach it to others in advance of any family gatherings over the holidays!

The Tuesday morning study group has been reading Love is the Way, the by The Most Rev. Michael Curry, the Presiding Bishop of the Episcopal Church, USA. As head of his denomination in the United States, he inevitably faces conflicts within the life of the Episcopal Church, and the global Anglican Communion. At a crux of one these moments, he says to another:

"This is my brother, we follow Jesus. He teaches us the way of love; he didn't teach us the way of agreement. That love dominates our relationship, not our agreements or disagreements."

This loving way of Jesus is alive and visible in our congregation often, and I give thanks to God for it. We don't always agree on every matter here in this congregation, whether they be the details of governance and finance in our ministry, or the wide-ranging scope of how our church is called to serve and bear witness to Christ in the world. We do love each other, and love the Christ we meet in each other, as we discuss and discern the path forward together. Even more, we don't turn away from, or avoid, important matters of our days and our life together as the church.

I don't know if you hear this enough: but all of this is a pure gift of the Holy Spirit at FCC, and of the faithful commitment that each of you make to this community. You bear witness to the one-ness of Christ in the ways in which you listen to and engage faithfully the diversity of spirit, of heart, and of mind here. In a culture which seems ever more divided, I need to say thank you for the loving and "counter-cultural" community of belonging you nurture and prioritize here with each other.

In other corners of our life, I think I'll leave us with of the spirit oriented practices of finding and forging oneness Bishop Curry names:

- Identify the shared moral values and spiritual principles where you agree.
- Share your personal story about how those values and principles became important to you.
- Seek to apply those values to current challenges, and identify commonalities.

Craft ways forward that best approximate those values and principles.

- On the state of the pandemic, and hoping for more chances to be together as one!: as we have every hope that vaccines will be even more widely available in the near future, and as we move into what is often a busier season in our church and worship life, I want to be sure to remind you about our current worship practices to help you decide how you would like to participate.

Please register ahead of time to attend worship in the sanctuary. Follow the link to hybrid worship from our website: foresidechurch.org, and click on the date that you would like to attend. We are currently limited to 50 attendees, and are regularly approaching that limit.

- When you arrive, you'll find that all the sanctuary windows are open to provide good ventilation. (You may want to dress in an extra layer!)
- Please wear a mask from the time you enter the sanctuary until you leave. Worship leaders may remove their masks at the microphones in the front of the sanctuary, where we have additional fans moving air out.
- Please be careful to give others space as you enter, find a seat, and again as you leave.
- During worship, you are invited to respond and sing hymns quietly rather than projecting.
- An offering plate will be available at the back of the sanctuary as you leave, but we will minimize the passing of plates during the offertory and communion services.
- Please stay tuned in the next month for information and guidance on how we can all participate in the coming Advent and Christmas season.

Supporting the Ministry of FCC

As we work to continue to offer ministry inside and out of our congregation in a time of so much instability, we would invite you consider how you can continue to support our work in the world. Please know that if you would like to mail a gift or regular pledge payment to the church office, the office will be open to receive that gift.

If you would like to make a one time gift online, or if you would like create an account for a monthly recurring gift, you may do so through PayPal by going to our giving page and clicking the "Donate" button.

Thank you for the ways you share from your lives and empower the ministry of the church, offering connection, nurturing, and support here and in the wider world!

WELCOME NEW MEMBERS!

On Sunday October 31st Pastor Geoff and FCC members and friends in attendance will be extremely pleased to welcome the following new members into the congregation:

Hello! I am Grace High. I have strong roots to Maine and grew up locally in Cumberland Foreside. I also grew up coming to this very church when young! I have such fond memories of this community - both Foreside Community Church and Maine. I now live in New York City with my fiancé John and work at a technology company. I am excited to be baptized and officially join this wonderful community.

Bob and Joan Murray hail from Boston, where Bob continues to manage a small investment advisory business. Joan is a retired UCC minister, who served unhoused people in ministries in Boston and Waltham, MA. While they have owned a condo in Falmouth since 2010 and have attended FCC sporadically, they became residents of Falmouth at the beginning of the pandemic and are pleased to become members of FCC. They have a daughter and son-in-law and two grandchildren in Falmouth and a son and daughter-in-law and two grandchildren in San Francisco. Bob and Joan have transferred their membership from the Wellesley Village Church, UCC in Wellesley, MA.

UPDATES, REPORT OUTS, AND UPCOMING EVENTS AT FCC

We have just enjoyed our October fair – It was a success as a fellowship event - We could have sold more treasures and knits, and probably should have had more advertising, but what's done is done. You can still order many custom pies and other desserts for the holidays, and the sign-up sheets are in Christina's office. You can also sign up for your Christmas wreath, a small green arrangement, a red amaryllis, and/or chili. All these items will be able to be picked up at our second fair, Dec 4th, also outside and from 12-2.

And this year, we have welcomed the Internet as a tool, with the silent auction and sale ONLINE! Laura Rodas is leading the charge into the 21st century and organizing the sale. There will be a link and explanation on the FCC website. I encourage EVERYONE to check it out.... there will be wrinkles, but we have very nice donations! Mary and Phil have offered their new lake house near Saddleback for school vacation; Lyle Rogers has donated her treasured hutch; We have five full meals to be made and delivered for your dining pleasure. And we have more coming in every day – something for every budget.

Speaking of pieces of furniture, now that we can sell items online, if your donation is larger, we can list and photograph it without moving it into the church. So.... contact Carol Ward (838-8235 / cward-md2@gmail.co) if you have something that your children don't want but you can't bear to send to Goodwill....

SAVE THE DATE!

Friday November 12th 7-8 pm

To piggy back of the success of the tea and to provide another COVID safe and all age friendly activity, Fellowship is planning gatherings around several fire pits. Fellowship will provide the s'more fixings and participants will bring their own s'more stick as well as their preferred hot beverage.

If you are worried about being cold, several of our youth are working with Jill Fox to make corn filled bags which you can put in your microwave to make them hot and then place them in your lap under a blanket. Or you can fill a hot water bottle and bring that. I put them in a small cooler to keep them warm until I need them.

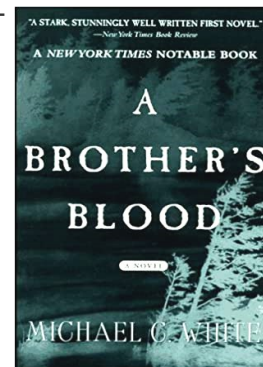

We are hoping you will dress warm and join a fire pit and start your weekend off right. Please email Liz Ventre at even-trel@maine.rr.com if you wish to join us. Let her know if you need the easiest accessible fire pit as those who have volunteered to host are letting her know accessibility. If you would be willing to host and have not let her know yet, please do that as well. Liz will be dividing us up into groups of 6-8 so we can enjoy a smaller group setting and get to know better some other members of our community.

The Foreside Book Club met outside in October to discuss Bitter Almonds by Laurence Cosse. We had a lesson in Montessori education and learning that helped shed some light on a difficult and frustrating book. On Wednesday November 17, we will meet again to talk about A Brother's Blood by Michael White.

"This extraordinarily engrossing literary mystery exposes a little-known chapter of 20th century history -- the detention in the U.S. of nearly 400,000 German prisoners of war during World War II. The landscape of rural Maine provided a surreal sort of shelter for these most reviled casualties during the war. While many prisoners served their time peacefully enough, some escaped and others -- like the brother of Wolfgang Kallick -- were simply reported to have died. A Brother's Blood commences decades after the war, with Wolfgang Kallick's arrival in America to learn the details of his brother Dieter's death. When he discovers that Dieter escaped from the camp and was found dead months later, he vows to find out how his brother died. Libby, a flinty local woman who grew up during the war, is drawn into the drama, only to find that her family is implicated. After her brother is slain, Libby undertakes her own quest for solutions to both deaths -- suspecting they are somehow related -- and exposes a darkness beyond her imagining."

Mark your calendar for Wednesday, November 17 at 4:00 p.m. for what should be another rewarding and friendly conversation. Anyone is welcome and encouraged to join us. This will probably be a Zoom meeting and a link will be provided. FMI: mimihinkel@gmail.com

2020 Bob Fuller Award Presented to Jill Fox

(D. Gray)

The Governing Board is delighted to announce that Jill Fox is the recipient of the 2020 Bob Fuller Award. She joins a distinguished list of FCC members recognized for their outstanding service to the church and its ministries.

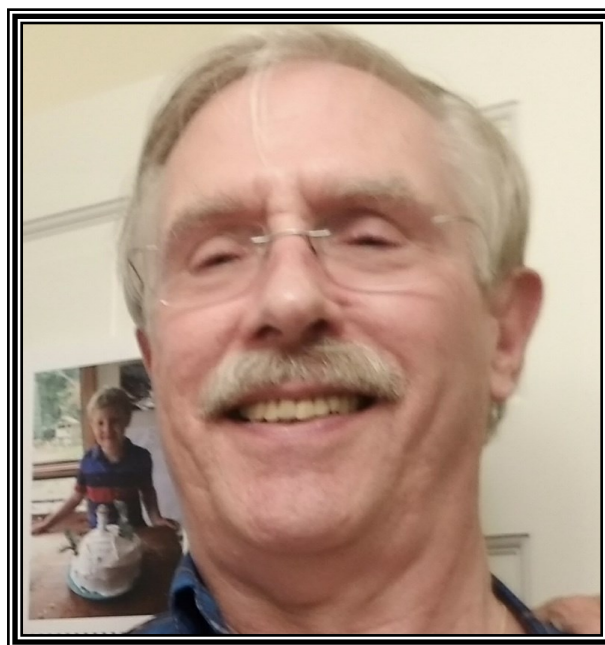

Jill is a creative mainstay of the Christmas Fair. Who doesn't have one of her handmade hats, scarves, sweaters, shawls, aprons, bags, catnip mice.....? Her legendary baked goods are bestsellers, and she has an eagle eye for spotting treasures among donated items.

Jill served on the Search Committee that called Geoff as pastor of FCC. And if you've ever walked into the church kitchen and marveled at the sparkling clean refrigerator, neatly organized drawers and scrubbed countertops---that was likely after one of Jill's legendary "deep cleans".

Jill has a soft spot for the youngest members of our church. She has taught Sunday School and staffed the nursery. She helps the kids with craft projects, and cajoles (and trains) the older ones into serving as waiters for the Christmas Fair Cafe. She's even enthusiastically participated in the children's Christmas Pageant---appropriately as an angel.

But it's Jill's quiet kindnesses that have touched so many of us. Her warm smile in greeting, a call or a card to mark a special date, a funny shared email, a welcome meal in a time of need. Jill embodies the shared ministry of our faith community.

Please join the Governing Board in expressing our sincere gratitude to Jill for her faithful service to FCC. A donation in Jill's name has been made to the Salmon Brook Historical Society located in Washburn.

John Kipp
Honored for FCC Service

(D. Gray)

John has been an integral part of the fabric of Foreside Community Church for many years. As Assistant Treasurer, he has overseen the church finances, keeping the books, preparing monthly statements for Stewardship and the Governing Board, drafting the annual budget, and participating in the annual appeal. His exhaustive grasp of the church database and general institutional knowledge have been invaluable resources to the ministries and staff. And he clearly enjoys his role as cashier at the Christmas Fair, usually wearing a Santa hat.

But John is more than a "numbers man". He has a strong commitment to the youth of the church, enthusiastically participating in Youth Group activities as well as family retreats, and supporting Pilgrim Lodge. He has been the long-time representative of our church in the Cumberland Association and the Maine Conference of the United Church of Christ. John is also called to extend our outreach, locally as well as globally. And from time to time, John has stepped into the pulpit and opened his heart to us.

John received the Bob Fuller award in 1991 in recognition of his faithful service to FCC, and we honor that commitment again as he steps down from his "official" duties. Knowing John, though, he will continue to be a vital and valued member of the congregation.

Please join the Governing Board in expressing our sincere gratitude to John for his many years of faithful service to FCC. A donation in John's name has been made to the Good Shepherd Food Bank.

Calling all strong Men, Women and Youth.....

WE NEED YOU!!!

Want to give back to our church community but don't have a lot of free time? Have so many meetings now that you just can't face another? Have some muscles that need to be put to good use and not just at the gym? Want to be appreciated by many in our community? If you answered yes to any or all of these questions, then join the FCC Muscle Brigade. It will be perfect for you!

Fellowship is hoping to organize a list of members who live close to the church who would be willing to be on a call list for our committee as well as any other committee, ministry, or group in the church who need help in setup for events. Christina will keep the list, so it is available to all. Many times, it is a very quick thing but impossible for those of us who are organizing the events due to our physical condition or age. If you volunteer, as a need for strength arises another church member will call you to ask for help. They should be able to give you a time to show up and about how long it will take to set up. You just have to show up and carry and/or move things. Normally there are plenty of people around after an event to help pick up so I suspect this will be mostly set up.

If you are willing to help us, please email Christina with your name, email address and phone number (csklarz@foresidechurch.org). Give any times that just will not work for you so we don't waste your time or ours with a call.

Your Christian Education Ministry hopes you will hold the following dates on your calendar!

Christmas Angels 2021

Justice & Outreach is looking to have some of our traditional programs fit back into the church even as our church family continues to cope with the impact of the pandemic. This year we hope that our congregation will be able to provide a limited number of warm winter clothes for children who are part of the Falmouth Food Pantry. Because we do not want to have people crowded into the narthex selecting angel tags from a tree, we will have two ways for those sponsors to sign out a child:

1. On Halloween Sunday October 31, Resa and Dotty will wait in the narthex with a sign-up sheet listing each child and sponsors can choose a name.
2. The names of all children not signed out on Halloween will be available on the church website. This year we are asking sponsors to provide only warm jackets and for some children, boots or shoes. We also welcome anyone who wishes to add gloves, mittens, or socks. Gifts can be returned No later than November 28 - they can be wrapped or in a bag, but it is important to secure a name tag to the gift!

Gifts can be left in the church office between the hours of 10:00 a.m. and 3:30 p.m., five days a week, unless availability is otherwise noted in the weekly email updates. For questions or more information please contact Resa Jones; Resabird@gmail.com or Dorothy Blanchette: dorothyb@maine.rr.com

UPDATES, REPORT OUTS, AND UPCOMING EVENTS (cont.)

This month's cover picture was drawn on the iPad of 9-year-old Cora Nanovic as part of an art exhibit recently coordinated by the Falmouth Public Library, where the original work is still on display. Fourth grader Cora shared that the picture "is about cozi-ness." Cora and the Nanovic family (mother Anne, father Rob, and brother Kasey have been attending services and actively supporting FCC since 2018). When asked what is most special about FCC, Cora enthusiastically noted, "getting together downstairs after the service, and the holiday decorations in the church." We hope you will stay with us Cora!

Talented Cora Nanovic (pictured right) hopes to pursue art as a profession, media yet to be determined.

Under the tutelage of Jill Fox, several of the church's younger attendees gathered at Jill's home recently to learn how to create and assemble "corn bags" for sale at the upcoming, 2-part annual fair. The bags can be heated in the microwave and then applied to body parts for warmth and comfort, and can be used repeatedly. A total of 30 bags were completed that afternoon and delivered for sale. Be sure to check out these beautifully crafted items, excellent for gifting or just to treat yourself. The day was rounded out with the serving of homemade cookies and apple cider. Well done ladies!

UPDATES, REPORT OUTS, AND UPCOMING EVENTS (cont.)

The afternoon following worship on October 24, a good number gathered outside for “Family Church,” a time of fellowship, creativity, readings, and music. The craft activities were facilitated by FCC’s Sunday school administrator Laura Rodas, and Sunday school teacher Beth Penrose. Everyone was mindful and respectful of needed safety protocols.

A special part of the afternoon agenda was when Pastor Geoff extended the “blessing of the pets” ceremony to the four-footed members of the attending families.
