PASTORAL NOTES

Cross Words

...the message about the cross is foolishness to those who are perishing, but to us who are being saved it is the power of God...For Jews demand signs and Greeks desire wisdom, but we proclaim Christ crucified, a stumbling-block to Jews and foolishness to Gentiles, but to those who are called, both Jews and Greeks, Christ the power of God and the wisdom of God. For God's foolishness is wiser than human wisdom, and God's weakness is stronger than human strength.

- 1 Corinthians 1 18, 22–25

To a community fractured, frantic, and turning on one another, the Apostle Paul wrote these words reminding them of how Christ crucified showed a way of inverting the everyday ways and stakes of struggles and conflict. That, actually, trying to conquer the other was the only way to really lose, and it was in freely giving all that Christ won for all.

On Ash Wednesday, March 5, Lent begins: the 40 days we follow Jesus's journey to Jerusalem, to betrayal and execution, to a cross, and to a stone rolled away from the tomb. In this season, I'm inviting us to spend our time reflecting on the cross. This, at one level, sounds pretty mundane: pastor asks church to think about cross; news at 11.

But an active and thoughtful theology of the cross may be essential living for us in these days. Because, if we misunderstand it, the cross can land us back in the midst of the very snares Christ's self-giving sought to free us from:

A Jesus, as participant in cosmic judgment, who wouldn't want too much empathy or compassion for others... rather than one whose heart broke for all creation and stood in the breach to end our own self-judgement.

A God who blesses might, violence, or the "justice" of execution... rather than one who sent a beloved son to highlight the actual path of life: radical vulnerability seeking reconciliation.

A Holy Spirit who might especially be upon the one who accumulates and stores up resources and security... rather than flowing through the one who extravagantly gives all and so gives life.

Some of these distortions are all too present in our current cultural and religious landscape right now. We need the clarity of following Jesus on the Way of the cross: a way of holding hope in the midst of pain, of kenosis (self-emptying).

The way of the cross looks like failure. In fact, you could say that Christianity is about how to win by losing, how to let go creatively, how the only real ascent is descent. We need to be more concerned with following Jesus, which he told us to do numerous times, and less with worshipping Jesus—which he never once told us to do.<sup>1</sup>

Many of us may carry some images of the cross which ironically taught us to see it through a worshipful lens of judgment, death, and finality that Jesus's story has inverted and conquered, the story that we are asked to follow in his path.

At its best, the cross is more than a symbol to our faith. It is a framework for us of the intersections, tensions, and even paradoxes of our human lives that we must confront and find our place in if we are to live as transformed people: yes, of life and death, but also of pain and power, regret and reconciliation, judgment and grace, oppression and liberation.

So each week in Lent we'll reflect some on the complex tensions which Jesus's crucifixion and the cross ask us to hold if we would follow him, that we might gain the wisdom of foolishness and God's weakness that can help us hold strong to the promises of the resurrection even in trying and unsettling times. Peace,

WELCOME NEW (& RETURNING) MEMBERS

On Sunday, March 2nd, the members and friends of The Foreside Community Church will warmly welcome the following to its family. In addition, and of equal importance, all will bear witness to the baptism of Lucy Herring, Poppy Herring, and London Leland. Everyone is encouraged to stay after service and enjoy a special tea (with delicious sweet and savory eats) and “get to know you” gathering hosted by the Fellowship Ministry. Please plan to join us, and be sure to wear your name tag!

David Herring and London Leland ~ London, originally from Boston, and Dave, originally from Michigan, moved to Portland in 2004. As London was completing her graduate work at Northeastern, Dave took a job at LL Bean, which quickly led to the position of founding Executive Director of Maine Huts and Trails. They moved to Falmouth 13 years ago, when Dave became Executive Director of Wolfe’s Neck Center for Agriculture and the Environment in Freeport. Meanwhile, London has practiced as an RN and then nurse practitioner at Maine Medical Center for over 20 years. Their children, Lucy (age 14) and Poppy (age 11) are active members of the Falmouth school community. Lucy is on the swim team and sings in multiple choirs. Poppy is a small but mighty member of her soccer and basketball teams. As a family, they travelled around the world for 3 months last spring, exploring 7 countries.

Caroline Jackson ~ Caroline Jackson (formerly Herter) is originally from Falmouth and was baptized and confirmed at Foreside Community Church as child. After growing up in this vibrant community, she went off to college in Pennsylvania and then moved around the country throughout her early professional career. She met her husband Mike in San Francisco, where they had their three children Liam (11), Avery (9), and Lilah (6). After moving back and forth across the country, the Jackson 5 are happy to have settled in Falmouth, just down the street from Mimi (Nancy Herter). In addition to her active roles as mom and daughter, Caroline serves as the Director of U.S. Business Action to End HIV, a coalition of private sector companies committed to ending the HIV epidemic in the U.S. Caroline is thrilled to re-join FCC as a formal member and return to this very special community.

Rob and Amanda Murray ~ Rob and Amanda live in Yarmouth with their four children, Vivian (18), Eliza (16), Jonah (15), and Hannah (13). They joyfully blended their families six and a half years ago, and are extremely grateful to be able to raise their children together.

Rob works at Kepware in Portland as Senior Director of Sales Operations and Services, and Amanda works at the front office at Rowe School, a pre-k through 1st grade school in Yarmouth. Amanda grew up at Foreside Church, the daughter / stepdaughter of Jean and Bill Hubbell, and the daughter of Bill Lackey. Rob grew up at Rumford Point Congregational Church, and was also a member at Floris United Methodist Church in Herndon, VA. Most recently, Amanda and Rob attended First Parish Church in Yarmouth, and are now delighted to “come home” to Foreside Community Church.

Worship continues to also be live-streamed for attending convenience by going to:

~FCC Book Club Updates

The Foreside book club will be meeting next on Wednesday, March 19th at 4:00 p.m. to discuss The Berry Pickers by Amanda Peters. It has been very popular but should be available through the library system now without too long a wait. We will be meeting by Zoom one more time before going back to in-person meetings. Please consider joining us for this discussion. New participants are always welcome, and all viewpoints are encouraged for a more meaningful conversation. Summary follows, and link will come later.

“A four-year-old Mi’kmaq girl goes missing from the blueberry fields of Maine, sparking a tragic mystery that haunts the survivors, unravels a community and remains unsolved for nearly fifty years. July 1962. A Mi’kmaq family from Nova Scotia arrives in Maine to pick blueberries for the summer. Weeks later, four-year-old Ruthie, the family’s youngest child, vanishes. She is last seen by her six-year-old brother, Joe, sitting on a favorite rock at the edge of a berry field. Joe will remain distraught by his sister’s disappearance for years to come. In Maine, a young girl named Norma grows up as the only child of an affluent family. Her father is emotionally distant, her mother frustratingly overprotective. Norma is often troubled by recurring dreams and visions that seem more like memories than imagination. As she grows older, Norma slowly comes to realize there is something her parents aren’t telling her. Unwilling to abandon her intuition, she will spend decades trying to uncover this family secret.

This debut novel by a vibrant new voice in fiction is a riveting story about the search for truth, the shadow of trauma, and the persistence of love across time. (Quote from Book Browse.) We hope you can join us on the 19th.

~Fellowship Ministry Updates

Travelogue Update

We had a small group who traveled to Miami, learned about the Art Deco style in buildings, and saw lots of murals along with other sites around the Miami Beach area. In March, as of yet, we do not have another travelogue scheduled. We are still working on that so watch the weekly updates for more news. In addition, if you are willing to share a travel adventure, please let Liz Ventre know so she can put you in the schedule. We hope to have a March and April travelogue and then we will start planning for next winter!

Game Day!!!

You asked for it and we are acting on the suggestion. On Sunday March 16th after you get a cup of coffee and chat a little, we will have tables set up for us to play board/card games together. Bring your personal favorite or play one that someone else brings. Play one game or several. Plan to have fun!

Hallmark Move Over

On Saturday evening, February 8, confirmands Lucy Herring, Skye Glover, and Charlotte Talmadge, along with mentors Debbie Reifsnnyder and Dana Humphreys, gathered at Lucy’s home to create two dozen fun and unique Valentine’s cards to send to members of our congregation who could benefit from knowing we as a congregation are thinking of them. The girls had volunteered to make them on Saturday since they had another confirmation commitment on Sunday when Fellowship had planned an after-church card making party. And it was a good thing they did since Sunday’s event got snowed out! Along with help from the knitting group (there is nothing these ladies can’t do!), all these cards were mailed out in time to reach the lucky recipients! Thank you to all involved!

~ A Welcome Addition

In February, work was completed on the purchasing and installation of a Café 36” Stainless Steel Pro Style Gas Range and new range hood with exhaust fan. Sized for large crowd preparation, it includes multi-ring and griddle zone burners, and a “Caterer’s Oven” that fits a full-size catering pan with precision cooking modes and an accompanying temperature probe. Of note, it replaced the stove top/oven that was well over a half century old.

Bruce Kaake and Peter Cinelli more than proved themselves committed to FCC by the incredible number of man hours and expertise put into this project, starting with the search for the range, negotiating price and delivery, purchasing and self-installing the hood, and rewiring to accommodate the exhaust fan. We are talking two good men at the wheel.....

And within the FCC family, a special shout out to the anonymous donors of a gift of $2,000.00 to help defray costs. Now, let’s cook!

A memorial service for FCC member Peter Jon Leeman who passed on February 9th, is scheduled here for Saturday, April 5, 2025 at 1:00 p.m.

The family of The Rev. Dr. Rebecca Erb, FCC member who passed in October 2024, has set up a memorial fund at the Topsham Public Library, 25 Fore-side Rd., Topsham, ME 04086 and invites your support.

Rebecca’s memorial service is scheduled at FCC on Saturday, May 31, 2025 @ 10:30 a.m. Details to follow in the coming months.

Sincerely,
Chuck

~ Little Children of the World Update

The following email letter was recently received by FCC. The writer, Brittany Foster, President and CEO of Little Children of the World (Lo-oc) had most recently visited FCC, presenting the October 2024 Mission Moment.

"Last year, a local business in Dumaguete began the process of opening soup kitchens throughout the public schools in Dumaguete. This initiative includes Lo-oc where our feeding program that you have supported has been operating for many years. We are not territorial, and ultimately, our desire is that the most children possible be fed to have the best chance at getting an education. With this in mind, we see the other soup kitchens as partners with a similar mission and together we can feed more children. In response, we have opted to shift our feeding program location to another area that is not being served called Cadavinonan. This is to prevent duplication of services and to be sure the maximum number of children are being fed.

The school administrators in Cadavinonan cried when we approached them with the partnership because the needs of their students are great. Please know all the children receiving our feeding services in Lo-oc have continuity of services and are still receiving daily, healthy lunches. By shifting locations, we can feed more children in this new area that also have great need. Without you this would not be possible. Because of you, more hungry children will now have a healthy lunch and be able to better do their school-work. The administrators, teachers, and the children are so very grateful to have your love and support. Thank you for caring and giving to change these precious children's lives in Jesus' name. We are forever grateful for your faithful support, encouragement, and prayers. We look forward to many years of partnership serving Jesus together feeding hungry children. May God bless you as you continue to help LCW/LCP make a difference in this world."

In late 2000 a soup kitchen was started in Dumaguete City, Philippines, initiated by an international volunteer, Alex Nickerson, through funding from her church, The Foreside Community Church, UCC. For the past 25 years, family and friends of FCC continue to fund this soup kitchen through the Ministry of Justice & Outreach. The long-term goal of this project is to continue to impact the lives of these children from Dumaguete's most blighted community so that they will be healthier and happier and able to attend school.

Brittany's email also contained these current pictures of some of Lo-oc's children.
